my529 materials now available in Spanish*Information about educational savings is translated and available at my529.org*

(Salt Lake City) my529, Utah's official 529 educational savings plan, has published its website, Program Description, enrollment forms, and other resources in Spanish. Translated materials are located at my529.org. This effort furthers my529's commitment to share the importance of preparing for education expenses with a wider audience.

my529 has been helping families nationwide work toward postsecondary education for more than 20 years. Account owners can choose from among 14 investment options to find the investment strategy that best meets their objectives, risk tolerance, and estimated time horizon.

Tax advantages that encourage investing for educational expenses differentiate 529 plans from other investment vehicles. Earnings in a my529 account grow federal and Utah state income tax-deferred. Utah resident taxpayers can earn a 5 percent tax credit per qualified beneficiary for contributions up to certain limits.

When it comes time for a beneficiary to attend college, account owners can withdraw their money tax-free for qualified higher education expenses such as tuition and fees, required books and equipment, computers, and internet access.

Funds invested with my529 can be spent at any eligible educational institution—college, university, or vocational school—in the United States and abroad that participates in federal financial aid programs. In addition, account owners can now use 529 funds for K-12 tuition expenses at public, private, and religious schools up to $10,000 annually per beneficiary in the aggregate from all 529 accounts. Withdrawals by Utah taxpayers will also be tax-free; non-Utah account owners should check the tax treatment in the state in which they reside or pay taxes.

The benefits of a my529 account go beyond the dollar amounts—educational savings can help children develop goals to continue their education after high school. A 2013 study found that even as little as $1 to $500 in a dedicated education savings account can make students three times more likely to attend college, and four times more likely to graduate with a degree.¹
